

Wizards Play In UB's Gym Next Thursday

The Harlem Wizards — not to be confused with the Globetrotters — bring their basketball wizardry to the University of Buffalo's Clark Gym next week.

The Wizards will play an exhibition next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the UB gym, sponsored by the UB Black Student Union. Tickets, at $3, are available at UB and Buffalo State College ticket offices.

The Wizards, who have traveled throughout the world, combine talents for basketball and comedy in their exhibition.

Leader of the team is James "Peanuts" Woolard, former Lincoln University star, a skilled ballhandler at 5 feet 2 inches. Also on the club are Tex Barnwell, a junior college All-American at Broome Tech; 6-7 Tojo Henderson; ex-Delaware State star Wade Pittman; and Valentino Willis.
