Dear Madam,

Miss Klementaski and Mr. Monro are broadcasting from the London Station on Friday next a selection of poems. Among those which they would like to read is your poem SEA LOVE and they would be very glad if you would kindly give your permission for it to be used in this way. The payment is half a guinea and as we have promised to let the British Broadcasting Company know by Thursday next the author's decision in each case, perhaps you would kindly let us hear from you regarding it by that day. We much regret not having been in a position to ask you for this permission earlier.

Yours faithfully,
THE POETRY BOOKSHOP.
