1 1/2	A fracas was triggered on the State University of Buffalo Main St. Campus Friday night when about 1000 persons jammed into a sold-out dance.
2	The disturbance at Clark Hall broke seven windows and a door in the building and caused a drinking fountain to be knocked from its foundations. As a result, the basement was flooded to a depth of 4 inches.
2 1/2	A UB spokesman said no injuries were reported and no arrests were made.
3	The incident occurred after a capacity crowd of 1800 had filled the dance room for an event sponsored by the University Union Activities Board and the Black Student Union.
3 1/2	About 1000 more persons, angered because they were apparently going to be barred from the dance, swarmed inside.
4	The UB spokesman said damage is covered by insurance since, under a policy established by university President Robert L. Ketter, a student group using a building for such an activity must provide coverage beforehand.
